

Certified Lay Minister (CLM) Process

Overview

(Adapted from the Certified Lay Ministry Guidelines 2017, by Discipleship Ministries)

A certified lay minister is called and equipped to preach the Word, conduct public worship, care for the congregation, develop faith communities, lead small groups, or establish community outreach ministries as part of a ministry team with the supervision and support of a clergy person. Much like a class leader in early Methodism, the certified lay minister enhances the quality of ministry to small-membership churches as part of a circuit or cooperative parish or by expanding team ministry in other churches and charges. As with lay ministry in early Methodism, the certified lay minister expresses his or her gifts as evidence of God's grace.

Why Do We Have Certified Lay Ministers?

According to ¶1268.2 of The Book of Discipline of The UMC - 2016, we have certified lay ministers in order to:

- enhance the quality of ministry, much like a class leader did in early Methodism through service in the local church, circuit, or cooperative parish.
- expand team ministry in other churches or charges.
- use spiritual gifts as evidence of God's grace, as with lay ministry in early Methodism.

What Does a Certified Lay Minister Do?

The Book of Discipline of The UMC - 2016 tells us that a CLM as part of ministry under the supervision and support of a clergy person:

- conducts public worship,
- cares for the congregation,
- assists in program leadership,
- develops new and existing faith communities,
- preaches the Word,
- leads small groups and
- establishes community outreach ministries.

How Do CLMs Work with a Ministry Team?

A CLM is not ordained or licensed clergy under appointment of the bishop. A CLM is a layperson certified for intentional leadership or assigned by the DS to a congregation or ministry. A CLM does not replace clergy — but works with clergy so that the congregation has the leadership necessary for vital mission and ministry. A CLM must be part of a ministry team.

Forming the Ministry Team

A CLM serves as part of a ministry team that should include the DS and/or supervising clergy person assigned to guide the CLM, and a smaller group of three to five people in the local church referred to as a "mutual ministry team." Together, these people form the support necessary for the CLM to be effective in ministry. They are partners in ministry.

The mutual ministry team in the place of assignment develops the ministry covenant together to assure that there is a clear understanding of the expectations of the CLM and other members of the mutual ministry team.

Certified Lay Minister (CLM) Process

The content of the ministry covenant captures the important details and basics that guide the ministry in that place. It covers areas such as: a short mission statement or description of the congregation and the purpose or role of the CLM, the congregation's ministry plan, the financial responsibilities to the CLM, ministry assessment and evaluation. For more information on the ministry covenant see Module 1 of the CLM Training Modules (Discipleship Resources). These modules are available through the Upper Room Online Bookstore.

CLMs are accountable to:

- the Conference Committee on Lay Servant Ministries for overall oversight,
- the District Superintendent and/or supervising clergyperson for service,
- the District Committee on Ministry for interview and recommendation of certification,
- the supervisory group within the ministry setting who will conduct a ministry review.

Modules 1-4

Discipleship Ministries and The General Board of Higher Education and Ministry have worked together to develop the basic coursework to prepare leaders for this form of ministry. In this case, certification provides a layperson with the training, support, supervision, and accountability needed to lead a congregation that either does not have a traditional clergy appointment or one that is developing team ministry.

Remember: Certification is intended to be an ongoing process, not an end in itself. So, you could honestly say that certification take a lifetime and begins with a placement!

Where can a person get the training to become a certified lay minister?

The conference or district may offer this training. Those interested are encouraged to check with the district superintendent for available opportunities.

The coursework (4 modules) provided by the Discipleship Ministries as downloads can also be used as a group-study with the supervision of a clergyperson and the support of a mutual ministry team (key leaders) of the congregation being served by the CLM.

Whatever the format chosen, it should include work/interaction with people in the local congregation being served.

The required coursework has four modules:

1. Call and Covenant for Ministry
Description: Understanding of theology and call for ministry, exploring spiritual gifts, and developing a ministry covenant. Minimum Time: 30 hours
2. The Practice of Ministry
Description: Four Sections: Leading Worship, Preaching/Sharing Faith, Discipleship Ministries, and Caring for a Congregation. Minimum Time: 8 hours per section
Additional Resources:
What Every Teacher Needs to Know
Faith Sharing Initiative Participant's Guide
3. Organization for Ministry

4. Connection for Ministry
Description: United Methodist theology, practice, and polity are explained with the roles of the local congregation district, conference, and general church. Minimum Time: 8 hours

(Please note: This coursework is not intended to compare with traditional training, such as certified lay servant schools/courses, licensing school, course of study, or even seminary. It is designed to prepare a CLM for effective pastoral service as part of a ministry team that should include leaders who have completed traditional training or theological education.)
