

Bible Balderdash using Zoom

What is it?

- Players receive a rare/unknown word and create their own definition for the word. All players share their definition with the group. Then the group votes for the definition they believe to be correct.

How to:

- The leader has the list of words and definitions (see below or create your own).
- Share the word with all Zoom participants.
- Send the correct definition via chat on Zoom to one participant.
- Give the players time to write their own definitions.
- Call the players one at a time to share their definitions.
- Once everyone has shared their definition, go back through all players reading their definition on more time and ask if anyone wants to vote for each definition as it is read.

Scoring:

- 1 point when someone guesses your definition
- 2 points when you guess the correct definition
- 3 points if your definition is similar to the correct definition
- 3 points for the person with the correct definition if no one guesses it

The leader is responsible for keeping track of points, but you could also assign a second adult to do this from a different location.

Note from the creator: if you use this and add your own words, please share them with
